DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 2, 5 to 10, 12 to 16, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a and e) as being clearly anticipated by Cotte et al (2002/0090458).

The Cotte et al reference teaches a method of growing a ferroelectric crystal on a substrate, note entire reference. The ferroelectric raw material is placed and dissolved in to a critical fluid, note col. 2. The material is a ferroelectric and can be PZT, note col. 3. The supercritical material is a gas and can be carbon dioxide, note, col. 3. The ferroelectric is deposited onto a patterned substrate. The substrate can be a metal.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3, 4, 11, 17, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cotte et al.

The Cotte et al reference is relied on for the same reasons as stated, supra, and differs from the instant claims in the use of bubbles, and bismuth. However, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine through routine experimentation the optimum, operable means of introducing the supercritical fluid and specific ferroelectric in the Cotte et al reference in order to uniformly treat the raw materials and grow a specific property in the ferroelectric.
